

Dean's announcement of January 21st, 2022
on the organization of education process from January 22nd to February 24th, 2022

With reference to Regulation No. 11/2022 of the Rector of the Poznań University of Life Sciences of January 21st, 2022 on the limitation of the functioning of the Poznań University of Life Sciences, I decide that in the period from January 22nd, 2022 to February 24th, 2022, full-time education and the first and second cycle extramural studies (including English-language studies) at the Faculty of Economics are generally conducted with the use of distance learning methods and techniques (remotely).

At the same time, I would like to inform you that in order to complete the practical classes, until January 31st, 2021, in full-time studies, in exceptional circumstances, it is possible to conduct previously planned and agreed forms of credits (e.g. written tests) - stationary at the University. The decision on the form of conducting the above mentioned classes (stationary or remotely) each time is made by the teacher of a given subject.

The procedure for conducting classes in doctoral and postgraduate studies conducted by the Faculty is decided by the head of doctoral studies and the head of postgraduate studies in consultation with the Dean.

Stationary classes are carried out in accordance with the sanitary regime, on the terms set out in the previous announcements and orders of the Rector of the UPP (<https://puls.edu.pl/zarz-dzenia-i-komunikaty-rektora-w-sprawie-koronawirusa>).

Exams and credits in the winter examination session (February 2-13, 2022) and in the retake session (February, 19-24 this year) are recommended to be carried out with the use of distance learning methods and techniques, through electronic platforms recommended by UPP.

The Dean of the Faculty of Economics
